Discussion paper—Improving sustainable housing in Queensland road shows

Purpose

The Department of Infrastructure and Planning is conducting statewide community consultation meetings and shopping centre appearances for the Improving sustainable housing in Queensland discussion paper from June–September 2008. Refer to the table below for session times and locations.

Background

Building Newsflash 320 advised of the commencement of the public consultation process for the Improving sustainable housing in Queensland discussion paper. The discussion paper provides Queensland residents the opportunity to have their say on a range of suggested sustainable housing improvements proposed by the Queensland Government. The proposed improvements will help make Queensland homes more naturally comfortable, use less water and energy and assist residents in making an informed decision about sustainable housing features when they buy or rent. A range of measures for new and existing homes are included in the discussion paper.

Have your say

A copy of the discussion paper can be downloaded from www.dip.qld.gov.au/sustainablehousing or by emailing sustainablehousing@dip.qld.gov.au or free-calling 1800 682 021.

Residents can respond to the discussion paper online at www.getinvolved.qld.gov.au or by downloading a response form from www.dip.qld.gov.au/sustainablehousing. All submissions must be received by 5 pm, Friday 12 September 2008

Residents are encouraged to attend the consultation meetings and shopping centre displays to provide their comments and suggestions on the discussion paper. To register for the consultation meetings, please contact the department on 1800 682 021 prior to the date.
